The Admission of Tennessee---Minority Report.

In the House of Representatives, on Monday, after the joint resolution admitting Tennessee upon certain conditions, had been submitted by the majority of the Reconstruction Committee, Mr. Rogers, of New Jersey, arose and submitted the following minority report:

To the House of Representatives: The subscriber begs leave to submit to the House a minority report against the joint resolution reported from the Committee on Reconstruction, to admit the State of Tennessee into the Union on an equal footing with the other States, and to show to the House the following reasons:

First. That Tennessee is now and has been at all times since her admission into the Union, one of the United States of America, and consequently Congress admitting her into and authorizing her to exercise the functions of a State within this Union, must be based upon the idea that she has been during the war, and is now, legally out of the Union or at least is for all practical purposes.

Second. No State can, by any act of its people, be withdrawn from the Union without the consent of every other State.

Third. The people of the State of Tennessee, by virtue of an ordinance of secession, claimed the right to withdraw from the Union, and to enforce her pretended right, placed a portion of her people in a state of insurrection and rebellion against the United States; while the Government of the United States denied the right of the people of Tennessee to withdraw the State from the Union; and to settle the question, a portion of the people of Tennessee, with the aid of the so-called Confederate Government, engaged with the United States in a conflict of arms. That conflict decided that the claim of the people of Tennessee had no foundation in law, or in fact, and the attempted withdrawal of the State was by the Federal Government prevented and consequently the destruction of the constitutional relations of Tennessee within the Union was prevented and the State kept in the Union.

Fourth. There is no such thing as a State being in the Union, and possessing the right of local and domestic legislation, without the absolute right to demand representation in Congress, because the Constitution is based upon the equality of the States.

Fifth. This joint resolution does not admit the members from Tennessee to take their seats in this body, upon their qualifying by oath according to law.

Sixth. There is no question in the minds of the Committee as to the loyalty of the members elect from Tennessee, and therefore upon the fact that the State of Tennessee is now one of the United States of America, within the Union, the Representatives ought to have the oath of office administered to them at once, by the Speaker, and they be admitted members of this House. And, therefore, we recommend as a substitute for the said joint resolution, and preamble, that the House at once adopt the following resolution, or one of the like character, to wit:

Resolved, By the House of Representatives, that the representatives elect to Congress from the State of Tennessee be, and they are hereby admitted to take their seats in the House as members thereof, upon their taking the oath prescribed by law.

A. J. ROGERS.

Representative Grider concurred in the minority report.

The Committee Report on Tennessee---Its Surprising Character and Certainty of its Being Maintained.

WASHINGTON, March 7.

Though prepared for some report from the Committee on Reconstruction of a very radical character, the public could hardly believe that the committee would undertake to place Tennessee and all the other so-called "seceded States" out of the Union. The majority report will undoubtedly be maintained. The joint resolution which requires that Tennessee should acknowledge herself out of the Union, and to be a suppliant for re-admission upon the terms which Congress imposes, will command, no doubt, a two-thirds vote in both Houses of Congress. Tennessee may assent to it and ratify it. No representative will Tennessee have till she ratifies that decree. The President will have to act on this joint resolution, just as certainly as he had to act upon the bill admitting Texas. His veto will amount to nothing. The committee have counted votes in both Houses upon the measure.

Many of the Republican members are very desirous of bringing the session to an early close after admitting Tennessee, and perhaps Arkansas, and passing the appropriation bills. Others say that the country will not assent to an abandonment of the capital by Congress while the Union remains in its present agitated and critical situation.

The President to-day sent to the Senate the papers relative to the organization of Provisional Governments for the late rebellious States and the correspondence with the Governors.—The correspondence is exceedingly voluminous, and though much of it has already been published, there is yet much of great interest.

The Joint Resolution for the Admission of Tennessee.

[From the National Intelligencer.]

The people have not risen too soon. Let them understand that a desperate combination of powerful partisans, who, with extraordinary audacity, dominate over a majority of both Houses of Congress, and against whose machinations for the overthow of civil liberty we have so earnestly warned the sovereign people, have at length, with the heedless desperation of discomfitting tyranny, framed an open project for the formal dismemberment of the Union.

The report of the majority of the Joint Committee of Reconstruction, concludes with a joint resolution, in which the people of a State of the Union are declared "to be in a condition to exercise the functions of a State within this Union," and are yet by the self same resolution excluded from that Union!

This resolution has not yet been acted on by either House. It is to be called up "at an early day." Is it to pass both Houses? This question appears to us to be fraught with consequences as momentous as have ever befallen the American people. If it passes, doubtless it will be speedily, for those who support it well know with what indignant disapprobation all Union men in the country would rebuke it after full consideration.

A Highly Important Rumor---Southern Senators Summoned to Washington.

"Iota," the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, under date of the 6th instant, says:

A highly important rumor has just reached me from a source entitled to consideration, to the effect that the President has summoned to this city the Senators elect from all the reorganized Southern States lately in revolt. The report may be premature. But several of these Senators are now here, and have been requested by the President to remain. That he may have occasion to confer with all of them, after the events of yesterday, is not improbable.

The majority of the Committee on Reconstruction have come to the conclusion, in effect, that no one of the eleven lately rebellious States shall be represented in this Congress. This is in conformity with the assertions of the most trusted leaders of the Congressional majority.

E. F. Coe's Super-Phosphate of Lime,
OR BONE MANURE.
WARRANTED GENUINE.

BEING MADE OF THE BEST MATERIAL AND in the most approved manner, it is recommended to the public as superior to any other in the market. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms of praise, and those engaged in its manufacture will continue their best endeavors to advance the high reputation which it has acquired.

We guarantee the Phosphate to be well manufactured, and recommend it in preference to any other artificial manure in the market. We consider it nearly equal to the best Peruvian Guano, although furnished at half the price.

Messrs. R. H. Allen & Co., the well known manufacturers of agricultural implements, say of it:

"We take pleasure in stating that we have sold E. F. Coe's Super Phosphate of Lime for four years.—It has given universal satisfaction to our customers. We most cheerfully endorse it as an article worthy of the confidence of the public, and the purchaser may rely upon securing an article honestly and carefully manufactured.

"We would state that, after careful examination, we believe this Phosphate has been improved each year since its introduction in this market, and that it will continue to maintain its present high standing.

"Very respectfully,
"R. H. ALLEN & CO.,

PROSPECTUS
COSMOPOLITE.

ON THE FIRST OF JANUARY WE WILL commence the publication, in the City of Baltimore, of a monthly

Literary Magazine.

There is no publication of this character now issued South of New York City, and the closing of the war has left a large portion of the people of the country with no literary representative.

The COSMOPOLITE will be devoted to Literature, Art, Reviews, Scientific Papers and General Reading, and we shall number among its contributors some of the first literary men of the South, with others from the North and from London and Paris.

SEATON GALES, } Editors.

Saturday, March 10, 1866.

For Daily, per year,	$10 00
" six months,	5 00
" one month	1 00

Weekly per year,	3 00

Our terms are invariably in advance. The Weekly and Semi-weekly will be issued about the first of January. Money may be sent us by the Rail Road conductors or the Express Companies.

We imagine the Sentinel is not so much concerned about the precedent in future as it was about the vote of Mr. Settle for Mr. Winstead for Speaker, a Union man, against Mr. Ferebee, a secessionist and latter-day war man.—Standard.

Nor would the Sentinel have had a word to say about the matter, and would have seen no impropriety in it, had Mr. Settle voted for its favorite, Mr. Ferebee. We want it understood too that this Mr. Ferebee who received 20 votes for Speaker of the Senate, and who in the event of his election and the death of Gov. Worth would become Governor, is the same that made the long protest against the passage of the constitutional amendment.—Progress.

Our two neighbors, are much alike. They have a measure to buy with and one to sell with. No one can tell what position they intend to take on any given question, except, that they will always give an ungenerous and partizan turn to every thing that will prove detrimental to their opponents; and never miss an opportunity to classify every gentleman as a secessionist, who voted against Gov. Holden in 1864 and 1865.

Mr. Settle's whole deportment, so far as we could learn, as Speaker of the Senate, during the entire called and adjourned sessions, gave us the highest gratification. We were anxious that that opinion should not be marred by any thing during his connection with the Legislature. Moreover, if Mr. Settle had been left entirely to the promptings of his own judgment, we do not believe that we should have had cause to object at all. Friends sometimes lead us to do, what we regret afterwards.

Our respect and veneration for the Constitution and the laws, do not admit of évasion or any seeming departure from their letter or spirit. And we here affirm that the same measure we would meet out to Mr. Settle, we would measure to Mr. Ferebee, or any other man.

Mr. Settle was elected Solicitor of the 4th Judicial Circuit in December, 1865. He was a candidate for that office, and he acquiesced in the election, by which he tacitly accepted the office. The called session met in January, and Mr Settle appears in his place as Speaker. Ample time was now afforded for his retirement and the election of his successor both as Speaker and Senator. But he holds on, the possessor of three offices of trust at one and the same time. It need not be said, he had not accepted the Solicitorship. He had virtually accepted it in his candidacy and election, and his subsequent acquiescence. He held on to two, not incompatible with each other, and put his hand in the collar of the third, to prevent it from fleeing and to prevent others from obtaining it. His courts did not commence until the 5th of March, yet it would seem that the high duties of a Solicitor, rendered it necessary to reserve a week, at least, for preparation for his work.—Yet Mr. Settle held on to both Senatorship and Solicitor until the 5th of March.

Perhaps in all this, Mr. Settle did not depart from custom. Others may have done the same thing before him, and hence to that extent he is excusable. But is that right? Does such a course comport with the respect and veneration due the Constitution? Does it comport with propriety, especially among that class of politicians who have prided themselves as being "strict constructionists?"

We believe the principle and the practice are both wrong. And we cannot justly be charged with the disposition to apply a rule to Mr. Settle which we do not apply to all. During the recess we had urged upon all who had been elected to office to resign at once, in order to give the people time to elect their successors.—Several did resign and they did right.

But now for the precedent. The 5th of March arrives. The Courts on the 4th Judicial Circuit commence, and yet Mr. Settle holds on to his position in the Senate. His commission as Solicitor of the 4th Judicial District had been filled up and was signed in January and yet he holds on. What for? On the 6th of March he resigns his Speakership, but retains his Senatorship. In the election for his successor, he sits in his place and votes for his favorite at every ballot. He caucusses and counsels in the election of his successor and votes for him. Is there any precedent for this? Does it comport with Mr. Settle's views of propriety? We do not believe it. His uniform, modest and ingenuous character forbade it. And yet he allowed himself to be forced into a position, to his own damage, to gratify his political associates. Now we say, we object to this as a bad precedent. If Mr. Ferebee or any friend of ours were to act thus, we should condemn it.

If added to this, Mr. Ferebee were to hold on to both positions, and by this means accomplish a party movement, we should condemn it as palpably in him as we would in Mr. Settle. We can but regret the course, not because our friends Ferebee and Shober were defeated, but because we cannot justify it in any one.

By the way, the defeat of Mr. Ferebee and Mr. Shober cannot be charged to Mr. Settle, but to the defection of men who were elected as Worth men, but who have most generally preferred Holden men to Worth men. If they can reconcile their course with their constituency, we shall not assail them.

But Mr. Ferebee "is a secessionist and war man." Mr. Ferebee became a war man about the time Mr. Holden did, but he, unlike Mr. Holden, never was a secessionist. His consistency is beyond rebuke, and he is as loyal to the government as any other citizen. The Progress objects to his protest. Mr. F. is an independent thinker, and acts for himself. We differ with him on several points, but our estimate of his character, has been in no wise lessened by these differences of opinion. He objects, but he gives a reason for his faith; and none but a blind devotee of party, can complain. No man has a higher sense of his responsibility as a representative than Mr. Ferebee, and we admire his lofty bearing, when he maintains, even at the risk of the displeasure of his opponents, whatever he believes to be right. He adheres to the Constitution as the sheet-anchor of our liberties, and does not readily yield his assent to principles or measures which he believes to be subversive of that instrument.

Editorial Dignity.

Our neighbor on yesterday, puts himself on his dignity, thus:

We are not to be diverted from the discussion of great principles by the personalties and little flings of the Sentinel. We want no "quips and quiddities" with that paper. The occasion is too serious to justify any notice on our part of small-potato effusions of spite. We care nothing for these things. Our object is the good of the country, and the restoration of the State to the Union. The enemies of the Union and of the old flag must "get out of the way."—Standard.

We are most happy at the declaration of our neighbor. The most unpleasant portion of our task, as editor, has grown out of the necessity forced upon us by the Standard and other kindred papers in the State, in repelling their "personalities" and their "quips and quiddities."—Nothing would so gratify us, as the manifestation of a disposition on the part of the Standard and other papers to discuss "great principles" alone. But alas! the force of the Standard has merely consisted in the dexterous use of its "personalities" and its "quips and quiddities."

The Standard ought to be dignified. It is edited by a gentleman who has filled a dignified office, and who while in office was dignified in his intercourse with gentlemen. It inspired in us the hope, that when he returned to the labors of the quill, he would keep up his dignity. But alas!

While filling the Executive office, the Governor in a dignified and appropriate manner, officially declared the people of North Carolina to be loyal to the government—that they had accepted the situation and would make the best of it—that they endorsed the President and would sustain him. But all this time, when the slightest occasion occurred, the Standard, his paper, was attacking the loyalty of particular classes and claiming all the loyalty for the "straitest sect." Its columns were filled with bitter invective and overrunning with bile.—When the Governor returned to the tripod we looked for better things. But what has been its character?

Now it may seem dignified and quite proper to our neighbor, to be daily denouncing our people as disloyal, to be calling hard names and crying out for blood; but we beg to differ. If the people are in error, why not teach them? If they go beyond the bounds of propriety, why not counsel them as a friend? The Standard professes to be a friend of the people. Why not show itself friendly?

Is it dignified or proper to be arraigning gentlemen before the public as traitors, as opposers of the Union, who enjoy the confidence of the people, in as high degree as any other citizens? Is it dignified and genteel, we put it to the Standard, to make these charges against gentlemen who have sworn to be loyal, without such evidence as would convict them before a Court of Justice? The Standard has arrayed such gentlemen before the public as either disloyal or contributing to it, as Messrs. Ferebee, Covington, Keener, Leitch, McCleese, McEachern, McLean, Morehead, Shober, Judge Howard, Mr. Harris, of Franklin, Mr. Wiggins, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Aycock and the editor of the Sentinel. Does the Standard believe that there is the taint of disloyalty to the garments of any of those gentlemen? Would the editor make oath, that he believes that they or either of them, are disloyal or are knowingly contributing to disloyal feeling among the people?—Impossible. And yet the Standard is laboring with all its energy, to convince the government and re-assure the Radicals at the North, that those gentlemen and their associates are either disloyal or giving aid and comfort to disloyalty in the State. The distinction which it makes between Mr. Pool and Mr. Jones and the rest of the members of Congress, shows a purpose to impress the North and the government with the belief, that Gov. Graham, Josiah Turner, jr., Mr. Fuller, Mr. Clark, Mr. Stubbs, Mr. Hanes and Col. Walkup, are either disloyal themselves or were elected by disloyal communities.

We ask the Standard is it dignified, is it proper—does it comport with the responsibilities of an editor, to be holding up such gentlemen as traitors or disloyal or contributing to disloyalty, when he must know from his very soul, that he is libelling them when he makes the charge or intimation?

What is loyalty? Is it to vote for W. W. Holden in 1864 and 1865? And is it disloyal to have voted for Gov. Vance in 1864, and for Gov. Worth in 1865? Is it disloyalty to the government to sustain and support Andrew Johnson and his administration, and to oppose and dislike the views and purposes of the ultra Radicals at the North? The Standard knows—no one knows better than the editor of the Standard does, that no respectable gentleman in North Carolina who has taken the oath of amnesty. is disloyal, or harbors any hostility to the government of the United States. He knows that every such gentleman in North Carolina, warmly and earnestly supports the administration of Andrew Johnson, except such "strait sect" men in the State, who justify, sustain and support the Radicals. And we challenge him to show to the contrary.

The Standard knows that its present course is weakening President Johnson and strengthening the opposition to him, every day. Its course is daily contributing to sustain Stevens and Sumner, and Wilson, and to weaken the President and Mr. Seward and his administration. It professes to support the President, at yet it day after day, falsely and wickedly denounces the friends of Andrew Johnson as disloyal men and women. Is that dignified? Is it, that discussing great principle?

More than this, it denounces Mr. Ferebee and his supporters, classing them among traitors and aiders and abetters of disloyalty, when he knows that the President has no truer friends in the State than they are. Yes, it denounces these gentlemen, and yet when the editor meets them on the street, he recognizes them as gentlemen and offers his hand to those who recognize him. Is that dignified?

Once upon a time, when the editor of the Standard was denounced as a traitor to the Confederacy, we told him to his face, that if we could believe that, we would not recognize him—we would not speak to him or touch him.—His reply was, we would treat him precisely right in such a case. And now we say to him, if we thought him to be a traitor to the government of the United States, we would not recognize him. He could not come near us. We should avoid him as a pestilence. So we would regard any other man. Hence we told him the other day, we would assist him in detecting and pointing out traitors. We despise as we do the Prince of darkness, any man who has sworn to support a cause, who deserts that cause and proves a traitor to it. And when Southern gentlemen, no matter what may have been their political antecedents, solemnly swear to support the Constitution of the United States, we believe them, and we are ready to trust them, and we repel any attacks upon their fidelity.—Gov. Perry, that noble Union man of South Carolina, does the same thing. Gov. Holden when Governor did the same thing. Why does he not do it now? Our people are the same people. They still support President Johnson's policy—they still sustain his administration—they still oppose the ultra radicals. What difference is there in them? Why the only difference is, that they preferred Jonathan Worth for Governor, to W. W. Holden! That's the difference and no other.

A New Digest of the N. C. Reports.

We take pleasure in informing our loyal friends, that we have learned, upon good authority, that a Digest of the reported decisions of our Supreme Court, by Judge Battle, is soon to make its appearance. The Judge has been busy on this work for several years, and it is now ready for the press. It is to consist of 2 vols., of convenient size, and will embrace the whole sett of Reports, from the beginning.

We understand the work is to be published in this city under the supervision of R. H. Battle, Jr., a member of the bar, and son of Judge Battle, and that suitable materials have already been ordered for the printing.

We hope and believe from the author's reputation and experience, the work will be a success, and the profession will thank him that he has made such good use of his leisure hours during and since the war.

The expense attending the publication at this time must be very heavy, but we trust the Judge will be fully reimbursed.

The Disloyal Ladies.

The Standard thinks it dignified to charge upon young ladies disloyalty, because they did not walk under the U. S. flag, and because when asked by Northern gentlemen to sing or play the "Star Spangled Banner" and they are told that they do not know any but the Southern words, and the gentlemen insist upon it; why, it is disloyal for the girls to sing or play it. Every one knows that women every where are hard to make—hard to force to do what they do not like. Indeed, the most of them, are very much like the old man's wife, whom he said, "was a woman of so much contrabunction, that when she took a cumpinion of her own, there was no such thing as consequentioning of her."

Now we are no apologist for the indiscretions or imprudencies of young or old ladies. Some of them are so, and we have admonished them and in some cases rebuked them privately. But is it dignified, is it proper for an editor to lecture and threaten young ladies, through a newspaper for indiscretions?

But what are the facts? On the 22d of February the United States flag was very properly displayed at various points in the city. If the flag had been simply raised and left floating to the breeze, we presume no lady, young or old would have avoided it, or thought for a moment of there being any impropriety of walking under it. But we learn, that the young men who were charged with the duty of displaying the flag, took special pains to stretch it over the side walks, so that the "rebel girls, would be forced to walk under it. That was not all, but the young men thought they would have some fun, and took their seats near by, to watch the girls and make their remarks. Now every body knows that that was enough for a woman. The very suspicion that the young men were trying to play upon them in that style was enough. What was the consequence? Why, just as every one might expect. As soon as the ladies came along, they observed the flag stretched over the walk. If no one had been about, many of them would have passed along without any feeling of resentment, but as soon as they saw the watchers there, laughing in their sleeves and ready to make remarks, why every young lady as by intuition, at once turned off into the streets. And straight-way they are denounced as rebels and disloyal, and the Standard rises up in all its dignity, and charges disloyalty upon them.—"O! tempora! O! mores!"

To CORRESPONDENTS.—The excellent articles signed "S. T. W." and "Olim," came to hand two late to affect any good object by their publication. The object of Olim's animadversions, is dead enough without further pelting.

Query Answered.

The editor of the Standard asks a proper question, and we will give him a proper answer. He asks, if our language proposing to search out all persons guilty of malfeasance in office, &c., was intended to apply to him in "in any respect, while acting as Provisional Governor of the State." Certainly not, and we are at loss to account for even the suspicion that we meant him. Our neighbor was out on a hunt after traitors. We proposed to go with him, and while engaged in the search, we proposed to search out all others who are guilty of infidelity to the Federal or State government. We have no knowledge of any case of the kind, but we think there are fully as many of that class, as there are traitors in the State to the U. S. government.

OXFORD, N. C., March 5, 1866.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—May be you have forgotten that there is such a town as Oxford, in the good old North State; then, this is to inform you that it is still in Granville county, and doing remarkably well. There was a time when our villagers wanted a Rail Road through the borough, but now we are very well satisfied without one; wish that the world may forget our corner until times improve; don't care about having bayonets and court-martials and other like amusements in our midst. We have got plenty to eat and more to drink than our sober-sided people can imbibe for the next ten years; and then we have plenty of the prettiest ladies alive. Upon the whole we are doing very well, thank you.

Situated as is our town, in a retired and healthy district, it is, of course, a fine location for schools. The Female College under charge of Mr. J. H. Mills, (at St. John's College, the finest building of the kind in the State,) is worthy of the liberal patronage it receives, and is among the first institutions of learning in the State. The Female Academy is deserving as formerly. and is deserving of patronage.

It is useless for me to say, since Mr. Horner's fame as a teacher is not even limited to his native State, that the Oxford, Male Academy is unsurpassed either in the ability and tact of its excellent principal and his assistants, or in the number of its students, by any institution in the State. There is also a male school under charge of Rev. Maurice Vaughan than whom a more polished gentleman and scholar cannot be found. Upon the whole we are blessed with first rate schools in abundance, and all flourishing in a degree which seems truly amazing considering the hard times.

Our Superior Court is now setting, but seems to be very still,—little business of importance transpiring. The Freedmen's Bureau has ceased to attract crowds of darkies as in times past, and you would not know that we had such a tribunal in our quiet town. We don't even need a jail, or at least you'd think so, if you were to steal a few bales of cotton, or a horse, and be put in our concern called a jail; that is if you have as much sense as the darkies, who have lately departed from said so-called jail, whenever they got tired of the fare at the public boarding house.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 8.

The Senate resolutions were offered, declaring that to Congress, and not to the Executive, belongs the power of re-establishing civil government in the lately seceded States.

Pending the discussion of the Constitutional amendment in the House, Mr. Boutwell from a select committee of reconstruction, made a report signed by himself and Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, stating that East Tennessee is loyal, but that Middle and Western Tennessee were disloyal. They propose as an additional condition of admission, that suffrage be conferred without regard to race or color.

The bill declaring all blacks citizens of the United States, and conferring upon them equal rights, immunities with power for their pratection, was discussed.

Maryland Sustains the President.

WASHINGTON, March 9.

A committee from the Maryland Legislature yesterday, presented the President the resolutions adopted, approving his policy. The Kentucky delegation also presented proceedings of a meeting held at Frankfort endorsing the veto message. The President in response to both delegations, reiterated his determination to defend the Constitution against all attacks from whatever quarter received.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, March, 9.

HOUSE.—The House bill securing civil rights to all persons without regard to color in all the States, was discussed, and was referred back to the committee on the judiciary. Many Republicans disagreed as to the constitutional power to pass it in its present shape, believing it invaded to too great an extent the rights of the States.

SENATE.—The constitutional amendment was discussed, apportioning representation among the States. Mr. Henderson offered a substitute, that no State in prescribing qualifications for voters shall discriminate on account of color or race. He said his own State (Missouri) will give negro suffrage, and the South would be compelled to do so in five years. The substitute was disagreed to, and the original resolutions were then rejected by 25 to 22. Sumner and other radicals voted against it.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,

Are the most perfect purgative which we are able to produce, or which we think has ever yet been made by any body. Their effects have abundantly shewn to the community how much they excel the ordinary medicines in use. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in dismissed doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and, being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief, were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character, as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliableness of our remedies, while others have sent us the assurance of their conviction that our Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of our afflicted, suffering fellow men.

The Agent, below named is pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing directions for the use, and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid function of the bowels and pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Diseases which require an evacuant medicine. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia, and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations which they make more profit on. Demand AYER'S and take no other. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., and sold by Williams & Haywood, P. F. Pescud, Raleigh, N. C., and Dealers generally.

PROSPECTUS.

THE publication of the

The North Carolina Presbyterian

will be resumed in Fayetteville, on Wednesday, the 2nd of January next.

Confidently relying on the hearty support which we have heretofore received, we shall endeavor to render the paper more attractive, both in appearance and matter, than it has ever been, sparing neither pains or expense in the accomplishment of this purpose.

With the passing away of old things, a new spirit of activity, energy and enterprise, has been infused into every department of secular thought and business. Why should not the Church, also, partake of the progressive advancement? Why should she, of all the agencies brought to bear with such tremendous force upon the civilization of the present time, be inefficient, laggard and almost hopeless in the working out of her own destiny?

To arouse the church to the importance and necessity of work; of unceasing, restless, tireless energy in the service of her Master and Head; this shall be our first and chiefest aim In this we need assistance. We are not, alone, sufficient for these things. Our brethren must help us in every way; by contributions from their own stores of thought and study; by zealous co-operation in a common cause, for the benefit of all; by extending our circulation throughout all our borders, and thus giving us the means and the opportunity of performing well the work to which we have consecrated all that we have, and all we hope for on earth.

LIFE INSURANCE NOTICE.

THE old and well established

Ætna Company, of Hartford,

Offers superior inducements to all who wish to provide for family or friends.

All losses are promptly paid. No case of litigation has ever occurred with this Company. With assets of $2,300,000, it offers to receive one half of the premium in a note and half in cash, and, after the second year, to credit each customer with the dividends of the Company, which are now 50 per cent. With a small outlay, $500, or $10,000, or $20,000, may be secured to the family after their earthly providers are taken away. What father or husband would not feel thankful on his dying couch, that he had availed himself of every proper means to place those nearest and dearest to him, also of the privileges of want, and a life of dependence upon friends or charity? 8 819 policies have been issued from the office ending Jan. 15, 1866. The total income for the year 1865 was $1,683,339 57; total disbursements $527 805 24, leaving a balance to surplus fund of $1,155 234 33.

In Raleigh, a large number have liberally responded and promptly acted in this matter; yet many delay, and may wait until it is too late. A man in this city lately left his place of business for his evening meal, well and healthy, but never reached that home except as he was carried there to die. Had that man taken the advice of the Agent, he might have left $5000 to minister to the necessities of a sorrowing family. Delays are dangerous, procrastination destructive. But one says, "If I only had confidence in the Company that it would pay, I would insure." Well, it never has failed to pay, and to-day is more responsible than ever before. It is patronized by some of the most sagacious minds in the land—men competent to detect and expose any deception if it existed.

PROSPECTUS

OLD NORTH STATE.

"The Old North State Forever."

THE undersigned will commence the publication of a Daily and Weekly Newspaper, bearing the above title, in the city of Salisbury about the 10th of March next.

The Old North State will be, under our control, a firm and decided Union paper. But while it will be firm and decided in its support of the Union, and of all just and necessary measures tending to the complete restoration, it will yet be liberal and conservative. It will oppose radicalism from whatever quarter it may come. Confiding in the loyal intentions of the great body of the people of North Carolina, it will endeavor to soothe the asperities of the past by pressing among them a spirit of reconciliation and harmony.

Rejecting the exploded dogma of paramount State sovereignty, it will cheerfully support the National government in the exercise of every power necessary to the maintenance of its rightful authority, while it will ever contend against any encroachments upon the reserved rights of the States.

It will discuss all the various political issues of the day, but in doing this it will seek to avoid everything like partizan bitterness or personal vituperation. It will also strive to avoid that detestable practice, so common among politicians, of pandering to the passions and appealing to the prejudices of the multitude in order to accomplish partizan ends. It will endeavor to enlighten and direct aright public sentiment, by disseminating correct information, and by arguments addressed to the understanding—in short, it will endeavor to erect a high standard of political morality.

Its columns will be open for Political, Moral, Literary and Agricultural articles especially, and to the advertising public.

THE LOYALIST.

THE undersigned propose to publish in Louisburg, North Carolina, a newspaper under the above denomination, The LOYALIST, as its name imports, will yield a firm, uniform, and fearless support to the Constitution of the United States, and all laws enacted in pursuance of that great instrument. To the decisions of the Supreme Court of the nation, in such questions as originate in the interpretation or application of the principles involved in our federal jurisprudence or policy, the Loyalist will accord its unqualified acquiescence, as to the will of the American people, duly expressed through the only legitimate, determinate and sufficient medium. Its general politics will be those so long and so thoroughly taught by the patriotism, the eloquence, and the wisdom of Clay, and his departed compeers, and so fearfully vindicated by the present melancholy and helpless condition of the communities so recently arrayed in arms against the integrity and harmony of our national union

The Loyalist would make the institutions and independence, the material and moral dignity of the nation, as enduring and as brilliant as the stars whose images adorn the field and the folds of its flag. The Loyalist will also dedicate its energies and exert its abilities to ascertain and cherish the interests, as well as to develope the immense resources of North Carolina To the cause of education, the general diffusion of knowledge, the elevation of the masses, and the religious culture of all within its influence it will be a consistent and inflexible friend. Its editorial department will be conducted by gentlemen whose names will be announced in due time

The LOYALIST will be issued weekly, carefully printed, of the size of the Raleigh "Daily Sentinel," and furnished to patrons at $3.00 per annum, payable on delivery of the first number Subscriptions and communications respectfully solicited.
